Multi-Agent Systems and Agent-Based Simulation: First International Workshop, MABS '98, Paris, France, July 4-6, 1998, Proceedings (Lecture Notes in Computer Science)

Fifteen papers were presented at the first workshop on Multi-Agent Systems and Agent-Based Simulation held as part of the Agents World conference in Paris, July 4-- 6, 1998. The workshop was designed to bring together two developing communities: the multi-agent systems researchers who were the core participants at Agents World, and social scientists interested in using MAS as a research tool. Most of the social sciences were represented, with contributions touching on sociology, management science, economics, psychology, environmental science, ecology, and linguistics. The workshop was organised in association with SimSoc, an informal group of social scientists who have arranged an irregular series of influential workshops on using simulation in the social sciences beginning in 1992. While the papers were quite heterogeneous in substantive domain and in their disciplinary origins, there were several themes which recurred during the workshop. One of these was considered in more depth in a round table discussion led by Jim Doran at the end of the workshop on 'Representing cognition for social simulation', which addressed the issue of whether and how cognition should be modelled. Quite divergent views were expressed, with some participants denying that individual cognition needed to be modelled at all, and others arguing that cognition must be at the centre of social simulation.

From reader reviews:

April Little:

As people who live in typically the modest era should be update about what going on or information even knowledge to make all of them keep up with the era that is always change and move forward. Some of you maybe can update themselves by reading through books. It is a good choice for you personally but the problems coming to a person is you don't know which one you should start with. This Multi-Agent Systems and Agent-Based Simulation: First International Workshop, MABS '98, Paris, France, July 4-6, 1998, Proceedings (Lecture Notes in Computer Science) is our recommendation so you keep up with the world. Why, because book serves what you want and need in this era.

Gracie Thomas:

The book untitled Multi-Agent Systems and Agent-Based Simulation: First International Workshop, MABS '98, Paris, France, July 4-6, 1998, Proceedings (Lecture Notes in Computer Science) contain a lot of information on that. The writer explains your ex idea with easy method. The language is very straightforward all the people, so do not necessarily worry, you can easy to read this. The book was published by famous author. The author brings you in the new era of literary works.
