Defining America's Exceptionalism Roger Anghis

What would you do if you discovered that the majority of the history of America that you were taught was not at all America's true history? The history taught in America's schools today hardly resembles the real history. Our Founders were not the atheists and deists as many of today's historians declare. It has been reported that there might have been one or two Christians but for the most part they were atheists and deists. Of the 56 signers 28 held seminary degrees. America's exceptionalism is rooted in its Christian faith and Christian principles. This is confirmed by a statement by Alexis De Tocqueville in 1835 in his book Democracy in America. Tocqueville noted that every place he travelled, it was the Christian faith that dominated the political landscape. Learn how the Founders used their Christian faith and principles to build the greatest educational system in the world where we once were number one in the world we are now 27th out of 32 industrialized nations. Learn how they used Christian principles to establish the most just judicial system in the world that is now being destroyed by activist judges. Learn the truth about the Founders and what they believed. Learn how the Founders used their Christian faith to build the most powerful and prosperous nation the world has ever seen.
