How to Make Over $4,000/Month Tutoring Mark Krupp, Erik Krupp

A part-time tutor can easily make $4,000 a month, or more, working four hour a day, five days a week. If you work more hours, or hire additional tutors, a monthly income of $14,000, or more, is within reach. So why are tutors working for tutoring companies that are charging clients $50-$60 per hour while paying their tutors $10 -$20 per hour? The tutors are the ones with the tutoring skills! The main reason that most tutors are working for miserly wages is because they don't know how to start up and run a successful tutoring business. In the past, one of the main ways to get the information about how to start and run a tutoring business was by buying a franchise that cost $60,000 or more. Now you can get the inside business information contained in these tutoring franchise manuals for the price of a $2.99 e©book. This book covers it all. It will show you how to set up your business, how to market it, and how to manage it. It will also show you how expand your tutoring business by hiring other tutors.
